Local Catholic School Says "The Rays CAN – and so CAN We!"

*Students from Holy Family Catholic School
Support the Rays and Their Community*

St. Petersburg, FL, October 6, 2010: Students from Holy Family Catholic School are channeling their love for their local baseball team into support for others in need. Sister Florence Ann Marino, School Administrator, announced today that the school will be conducting a collection of canned and dry food items to support the Holy Family Parish's food bank, Clara's Pantry. Students are invited to bring in one canned or dry food item for every run scored by the Tampa Bay Rays in each home game of the ALDS. The food drive will keep going as far as the Rays can take it – the school hopes to continue the collection with Ray's wins in the ALDS, ALCS and the World Series.

"We know the Rays can be our baseball heroes. We want to show that our students can be Catholic action heroes to the needy of our community," Sister Flo noted. "The children are so excited that the Rays are in the playoffs. Our "Rays CAN" promotion gives us a chance to show our support for the team and give back to the community at the same time."

Located in Northeast area of St. Petersburg, Holy Family School offers a faith-based academically challenging education for students from pre-school through eighth grade. Holy Family School is a member of the National Catholic Education Association (NCEA) and is accredited by the Florida Catholic Conference (FCC).
